Dear Mr. Hamilton,

This is just a quick note to tell you how happy I am with FlowCalc by Hamilton Enterprises. I am impressed by its overall usability. It performs just as advertised; it renders quick, easy, and accurate flow determinations based on Manning's equation. I find the interface simple, intuitive, and enjoyable to use. Anyone who frequently conducts basic flow calculations will find FlowCalc a valuable part of their software collection.

Your prompt service and attention to user input is greatly appreciated. When I recently submitted a comment, I was surprised that Hamilton Enterprises not only acknowledged my suggestion but incorporated it into the program, and issued an update within two days!

I am very satisfied with this product and believe anyone, from students to the practicing professional, will also find FlowCalc useful and easy to operate.

All the best,

June Wolfe III, Ph.D.
